Mr Perez,

My name is Paul Bahou and I'm President of Global Plastics Recycling. A post consumer PET processor located in Perris on East Ellis Ave.

I am writing to you today in defense of sky dive Perris, a city institution if there ever was one. While my company has nothing to do with skydiving, the sight of divers jumping out of planes has been good for business. Customers and vendors love visiting my plant, watching the divers and eating lunch at the bomb shelter. I've struck many deals at those tables, and cultivated business relationships there that still continue on to this day.

Riverside county is full of bland fulfillment centers, monuments to consumption without beauty or soul. I plead with you to maintain the open and wild space necessary for the sky divers to remain. The airport brings character and charm, another warehouse will rob us of it.

Best,

Paul Bahou
